THE ADJOURNMENT RESOLUTION.

Time, Monday, May 31.—Status of Important Bills.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The Ways and Means Committee today unanimously directed Representative Gibson to report back the resolution fixing the time for final adjournment on the 31st of May. Members of the committee before taking action conferred with the House Appropriation Committee and the Speaker, and it was generally agreed that the appropriation bills could be disposed of by that time.

In regard to the tariff and funding bills, the committee are fully convinced that neither of them will be finally acted upon at the present session if Congress were to remain here till the middle of July.

The House meeting at 10.30 prevented any definite action by the House Pacific Railroad Committee today on either the Northern or the Texas Pacific Railroad bills. The chairman of the committee gave notice that a special meeting will be held on Monday next, when it is understood a vote will be taken on both sides. The indications are that no bills will be reported at this session.

Salt Duty.—Mr. Townsend makes Another Demonstration.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—One of those sudden squalls to which the House is subject sprang up this morning immediately after the reading of the journal. Mr. Townsend (Dem., Ill.) demanded the direct consideration of a large number of petitions favoring the removal of the duty on salt, asserting that the usual disposition of these petitions, reference to the Ways and Means committee through the petition box, was a virtual abridgment of the right petition, as such a reference was tantamount to ignoring the petitioners. Mr. Townsend supported his position by passionate declarations of one sort and another, which evoked shouts of derision, particularly from the Republicans. The Speaker ruled against Mr. Townsend, and he finally subsided.

STUYVESANT DESTROYED.

A Disastrous Conflagration in a Hudson River Village.

KINDERHOOK, N. Y., May 13.—The village of Stuyvesant was swept by fire this morning and over thirty buildings were burned. The loss is estimated at $240,000. The fire originated in the storehouse of Herman Plass, about four o'clock, and as the adjoining frame buildings were of light construction, the flames spread rapidly, and the entire business section of the village was soon in a blaze. Many private residences were burned, including that of Senator Wendover—a handsome frame dwelling. Among the other buildings destroyed were the Hudson River Railroad depot, the Catholic Church, the steam flour mill, the railroad freight houses, the hotels and postoffice and the docks, coal yards and shipping property. Assistance was summoned from Coxsackie, and a steam fire engine repaired to the scene. But the high wind which prevailed, blowing stiffly from the river, carried the sparks and embers in all directions and one building after another ignited and was soon reduced to ashes. The railroad track was badly damaged, the ties burned and the rails warped and trains were delayed for several hours. A tramp has been arrested on suspicion of starting the fire and he is now locked up. The amount of insurance is not ascertained at the present time, but it is generally conceded that the fire is the most disastrous that has ever visited Columbia county.

BRADLAUGH BACKS DOWN.

He Rather Prefers a Belief in God and all the Holy Angels, than be Kept out of Office.

LONDON, May 13.—Mr. Charles Bradlaugh, upon learning the decision of the House of Commons against him yesterday, went to Nottingham last night and called a meeting of his constituents, to whom he explained the state of the case, and asked their advice as to his course. He stated that he wished to be guided by their wishes. They had sent him to Westminster to represent them, and while it was true that he considered the formula of taking the oath would, in his case, be a mere mockery and sham, he would consent to go through with this mockery if they wished it. The unanimous voice of the meeting was in favor of Mr. Bradlaugh taking the oath, and it is understood that he will now do so.

This action on his part has not increased his strength, nor tended to add to the respect in which he has been held by those not of his own faction.

Methodist General Conference.—Election of Secretaries.

CINCINNATI, May 13.—Bishop Merrill presided over the General Conference today.

The Conference voted to elect two missionary secretaries, and to authorize the board of managers to employ such additional assistance as they deem necessary. The election of these secretaries proceeded by ballot in the same manner as for bishops. The first ballot resulted in the choice of the Rev. Dr. J. M. Reid, the present incumbent, and the Rev. C. H. Fowler, the vote being as follows: J. M. Reid, 261; C. H. Fowler, 220; J. P. Newman, 121; J. P. Gaw, 48; A. C. George, 27; William Butler, 26; Otis Gibson, 9, and J. G. Grayson, 7.

A Big Enterprise.—Capt. Eads and his Ship Railway.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Capt. Eads, who has made so much money for himself and friends by the jetties at the mouth of the Mississippi, is here again with a plan for subsidies to aid in the construction of a marine railway across the Isthmus, amounting in all to about one hundred millions of dollars. The shares of this, which can be put where they will "do the most good," secure him attention, and the scheme may possibly be put through, although it will be more for the benefit of foreign commerce than our own, and it will necessarily injure our trans-continental railroads.

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

Some time ago Miss Annie Lawrence, one of the younger pupils of the Reading (Mass.) High School, wrote Oliver Wendell Holmes, stating that the Old South Literary Society was about to discuss his life and works, and asking if he could send a little political contribution for the occasion. The reply of the genial author is very characteristic, and is as follows: "If you knew how many letters I have to write every day, you would say, 'Poor, dear man, how tired he must be!' We that make rhymes are expected to turn them on as you turn on water through a faucet—whenever it is wanted. But writing poetry is like shooting ducks or geese—you may load up and paddle off, and watch all the morning, and never see duck or goose, except yourself as reflected in the water. So, my dear young lady, I will only say that I should like very much to please you and a great many other young friends and old ones—by writing all sorts of odes, elegies, epics, epigrams, etc., but I have to content myself by disappointing you and them with a little scrap of a note like this, sweetened with good will and good wishes, and nothing else in the world to pay for postage stamps wasted on me."

PRICES NOW AND A YEAR AGO.

It may be interesting to compare the prices with which the present month of May has opened, side by side with those of the same date in 1879. We therefore make up the following table from New York markets as published in the County Gentleman, taking in both years the highest quotation of the item named, and covering all leading articles of farm production:

	May, 1879.	May, 1880.	Increase per cent.
Wheat, winter	$1.13	$1.29½	13¾
Flour, western export	4 85	5.50	11
Corn, western raised	45⅞	53	17
Oats, " "	34½	48	40
Rye, State	62	89	43
Butter, new dairy	16	21	31
Cheese	7½	14½	90
Pork, mess	10.25	11 00	7
Beef, mess	11.50	11.00	—
Bacon	5.12½	7.12	39
Clover seed	6½	7½	15
Timothy seed	1 40	2 60	85
Hay, shipping	45	75	66
Potatoes	3.75	1 87	—
Wool, and Ohio	35	55½	63

It will be seen that the increase is general along the whole line with the exception of beef which is a little weaker or about the same (for fresh beef, as well as mess, though the latter alone is above stated) and potatoes which were scarce last year and are abundant now. On the thirteen staples above enumerated the average rate of increase in price is 40 per cent.

THE EAST.

The appalling condition of affairs in Turkey, both European and Asiatic, must soon again attract the attention of the world. In Armenia whole villages are starving to death. In eastern Roumelia and Bulgaria the Slavs are bettering the bloody instructions they have received through long years of ruthless, grinding oppression, and perpetrating the most shocking atrocities upon the Moslem population. In Albania the population, through the incitement and aid of the Turkish Government and army, have revolted in the district ceded to Montenegro by the Berlin treaty. Meanwhile the governments both of Bulgaria and of Turkey are totally unable to deal with the awful situation, and the European powers must speedily again have the Eastern question on their hands, blazing more furiously than ever. The Liberal ministry of England will probably have some new and helpful ideas to contribute to the discussion.

PERSONALS.

......Queen Victoria persists in living in retirement and is seldom seen in public.

......General Grant will come to the East late in November or early in December.

......William Beckwith, the champion English swimmer, has arrived at New York.

......Governor Long and staff visited Fall River, Mass., Wednesday, and were handsomely entertained.

......The Empress of Russia is decidedly feebler. The physician attends her ten times daily, as she is greatly prostrated.

......Miss Fannie M. Clifford, formerly of Boston, now of New Haven, has inherited $100,000 from an uncle who recently died at London, Eng.

......It is understood that Prince Gortschakoff will shortly proceed to Baden-Baden, to remain until the winter, which he proposes to pass in Paris.

......Mrs. Ellen Grant-Sartoris is said to be looking extremely pretty. With her two charming children the fair and girlish mother makes a graceful picture.

......It is said that Baron Ernest Mayr, the Austrian minister, is the most aristocratic of all the members of the Washington diplomatic corps, and is very difficult to approach. He lives very luxuriously, imports his own wines and cigars, and is not fond of society.

......At the marriage of the Princess Pauline of Würtemburg to Dr. Willem, the clergyman in a brief address preceding the ceremony reminded the bridegroom that in marrying him the royal bride had surrendered a good deal that was esteemed grand and valuable in life. When the bride's turn came, however, to make the marriage response she added to the syllable "yes" the following words in a quiet tone: "I declare I give up nothing that can at all be valued in comparison to the happiness awaiting me and I consider my lot a most enviable one."

......Most earnest efforts are being made in New York to secure a commutation of sentence in the case of Balbo, the Italian murderer who is now under sentence of death in the Tombs for killing his wife. Signor Campanini, the tenor, is about to wait upon Governor Cornell, in company with Postmaster James, to plead the cause of his countryman, and the Italian Government, through the agents of Baron Blanc, late Italian Minister at Washington, is specially interesting itself in the matter. It is therefore thought that Balbo's life will be spared, if for nothing else as a direct personal favor and concession to Italy. President Hayes and Secretary Evarts are also said to favor the application in Balbo's favor.

THE HUDSON RIVER TUNNEL.

The greatest feats of modern engineering are the tunnels. Mont Cenis, our own Hoosac, the Sutro cut in Nevada, and latest, the St. Gothard, are monuments of skill and toil worthy of comparison with the most stupendous works of ancient Egypt. The tunnel under the Thames at London may be said to have inaugurated this particular branch of engineering, and now that the principal mountains which have been for centuries impediments in the way of travel and traffic are pierced, the next great achievements in this direction promise to be like the first, tunnels under water.

Leaving out of consideration the tunnel beneath the English channel, the completion of which seems now a remote contingency, we have nearer home in the tunnel under the Hudson at New York an undertaking rivaling in magnitude anything of like nature hitherto attempted in this country. Work on this tunnel was begun six years ago, but was delayed by long-drawn litigation, the railroad companies themselves, what with their heavy investments in depots and boats for crossing the ferry and their mutual jealousies, blocking in every way possible the progress of the scheme. The chief obstacles to the advance of the tunnel are now, however, said to be removed, and the work is going steadily forward. The forces behind the enterprise are the Hudson Tunnel company with Dewitt C. Haskin as president and a capital of $10,000,000.

While the railway tunnel under the Thames is but 1600 feet long, the one under the Hudson will be 5500 feet. It is, moreover, designed to be double-barreled, so to speak—two tunnels running side by side and converging and broadening into each other as either side of the river is reached. The depots of the New Jersey end of the tunnel will be half a mile back from the river, but the location of the terminus on the New York side has not yet been fully decided. Excavation, thus far confined to the Jersey side of the river, has been pushed forward over 60 feet beyond the outer edge of the docks. Three gangs of forty men working eight hours each make progress at the rate of three feet a day, and it is hoped by its projectors that the tunnel will be finished in 1883, or in time to land in the heart of the city the anticipated millions of visitors to the international fair which New York is planning in honor of the centennial anniversary of the recognition of American independence.

The methods of construction employed in building the tunnel are carefully illustrated in a recent number of the Scientific American, upon which we draw for some of the more interesting details. At the foot of Fifteenth street, Jersey City, 100 feet from the water, a shaft has been sunk, 30 feet in diameter and 60 feet in depth. This is lined with brick-work four feet thick. The river, somewhat shallow on the Jersey side, deepens to 60 feet within 1000 feet of the New York shore, and the tunnel will be carried on a grade some 25 feet below the river bed. The digging so far has been very easy, and the mixture of blue clay and sand is puddled with water as it is removed and forced out by the pressure of the air through a six-inch pipe. As the New York side of the Hudson is approached, however, a solid bed of rock will confront the excavators. An original feature of the work upon this tunnel is the use of compressed air to keep out water and help uphold the earth. An air-lock closes the mouth of the tunnel, and a pressure of from 17 to 20 pounds to the square inch is maintained inside its gates. With some precaution in making the change from the outside air the laborers find no difficulty in breathing and working under this increase of the ordinary atmospheric pressure; the electric light illumines with noon day brightness their subterranean tasks, and the handy telephone serves for communication with the managers above ground. Foot by foot as the work is advanced the tunnel is protectively inclosed with bolted sheets of thick iron, making a huge iron cylinder; this in turn is lined completely around with a hard-brick wall two feet in thickness, presenting a substantial arch capable of withstanding great pressure at the sides as well as upon the top.

When the great work is at last accomplished, it is estimated that the tunnel will allow of the passage of 100 trains a day. The advantages to New York city of the Hudson river tunnel, as can be readily seen, will be immense. Not only will it vastly economize the business of freighting and ordinary travel, but it will vie with the elevated railways in opening ways to new and inexpensive homes to moderately circumstanced citizens.

GLEANINGS AND GOSSIP.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has planned a relief society for its employes, contributed $100,000 to its fund, and offered to conduct its business without charge.

The trustees of Johns Hopkins University have chosen Beaufort, N. C., as the site of their marine zoological laboratory. They will try Beaufort one year before putting up a permanent building for seaside work.

The New Haven (Conn.) oyster dealers have nearly finished planting Virginia oysters, there being only one more cargo to arrive. The total amount planted will aggregate nearly 250,000 bushels, a larger amount than has been laid down in any previous year.

The German-American political association of the state has organized at Providence, with P. Brucker as president. Its objects are to secure the introduction of the study of German into high schools, the establishment of manhood suffrage, and the naturalization of all German residents.

Jennie Wade, whose parents lived near Cemetery hill, within the Union lines of Gettysburg battlefield, was baking bread for the soldiers on the third day of the battle, when a bullet passed through the kitchen door and killed her instantly. A petition of her mother that she be granted a pension because of the loss of her daughter has just been considered and adversely reported by the Senate Committee on Pensions.

Vienna is excited over a defalcation in no less a business concern than the great banking house of the Rothschilds, where a clerk named Stuffer, who has been in the employ of the firm since 1861, has just confessed to the hypothecation of the bank's funds to the amount of $25,000. He was a quiet bachelor, on a salary of $2000 a year, and nobody suspected his thefts until he made confession. Knowing intimately the operations of the firm, he thought it safe to speculate upon his information, not reflecting that the great concern, which had its agencies all over the world, might choose to lose at Vienna in order to gain greater sums in London or Paris.

A great deal of discussion has been going on among railroad men during the past few months, as to the capacities for high speed of the American locomotive, and a few days ago the matter was tested on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad. An engine and coach were run six miles at top speed, after a start of two miles to attain as great a momentum as possible, and the six miles were passed over in 5 minutes 13¼ seconds, showing a speed of a little less than 70 miles an hour. The engine had five feet driving wheels, and was one of the regular passenger machines used by the company.

The New York banks now hold nearly as much reserve as they had a year ago, but owing to the large increase in deposits the surplus is much smaller. The report for the week ended the 10th May, 1879, showed deposits amounting to 229 millions, legal tenders 53¼ millions and specie 18¾ millions. The total reserve was 72¼ millions, and the surplus 16¼ millions. The report on Saturday last showed deposits of 258 millions, specie 53¼ millions, and legal tenders 17¼ millions. The total reserve was 70¼ millions, and the surplus six millions.

HOW A LIFE WAS SAVED!

THE LIFE OF CHAS. S. PRENTICE SAVED BY THE USE OF WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY & LIVER CURE.

The following letter proves that BRIGHT'S DISEASE, in its worst form, IS CURABLE:

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 23, 1879.

Messrs. H. H. WARNER & Co., Rochester, N. Y.
Gentlemen: Having escaped death from Bright's disease by the use of your Remedy, I feel it a duty not only to acknowledge my gratitude to you personally, but also to bring my case before the public, and have those who are suffering similarly to judge whether a medicine not prepared by the "regulars" will cure the frightful malady or not.

In the summer of 1872 I was first taken ill, with symptoms which, I was informed, were those of Bright's disease. I went to Marquette, Mich., and called to my aid a physician of noted ability. After remaining a considerable time under his care, I found no improvement; on the contrary, my disease was considerably aggravated. I next placed myself in charge of one of the best physicians in Toledo, O., with no better result. I was then induced to try the skill of an eminent medical man in New York, and remained under his care six months. Finding myself growing steadily weaker, with no abatement of the kidney derangement, I began to despair of ever getting well.

In the summer of 1875 my friends induced me to go abroad, thinking that the sea voyage, together with the superior skill of foreign medical men, might effect a cure. I succeeded in gaining an introduction to the celebrated Dr. Declat of Paris, and remained under his care fifteen months. He used in my case what is known as the carbolic treatment, and then every method which the most scientific men of the profession on the Continent were known to employ. No improvement being apparent, the services of Dr. B., a gentleman of equal eminence, were next solicited. Seven months of careful treatment by this kind gentleman brought me to the beginning of the most aggravated symptoms of the disease. With swollen limbs, disordered liver, impaired digestion and serious irregularities of the heart, I proceeded to Manchester, Eng., and for five months my case baffled the skill of Dr. Roberts, one of the ablest men of his profession in England, and author of a work on diseases of the kidneys. His great knowledge did not avail in my case; and, finally, despairing of any improvement, much less a cure, I returned to my native land in the belief that I must soon die.

When I reached home two physicians were summoned, who, on subjecting samples of the urine to the test of heat and acid, discovered the presence of albumen in large proportion, while the microscope showed numerous casts. All this, together with the despairing look of my physicians, forced the agonizing conviction that death was inevitable. I then dismissed my medical attendants, with the intention of letting nature struggle on unaided to the end; for my confidence in the ability of medical men to cope with disordered kidneys had become, to say the least, greatly lessened. At this time, I weighed myself in the presence of several friends in the wholesale grocery establishment of Emerson & Co., Toledo, O., and turned the scales at 212½ pounds, 67½ pounds more than my ordinary weight when in health; in other words, the tissues of my body were saturated with 67½ pounds, or about 6½ gallons of water.

Finally, while listlessly lingering in pain and anguish, I was informed by a lady residing on Plymouth avenue, Rochester, N. Y., that one Charles Craig of Charlotte had discovered a remedy for Bright's Disease, with which he had cured himself and many others. I immediately repaired to his residence by the lake, and after a treatment of five weeks with the remedy (now called "WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE"), all my symptoms abated, and I began to feel that I was almost a well man. I returned home, taking with me a quantity of the medicine, and now, although months have elapsed since I took the last dose, I joyfully declare myself absolutely well, both in mind and body.

Should you have occasion in the future to use this letter, you are at liberty to do so, and any one who hesitates to believe the conclusiveness of my statements, is respectfully referred to the following persons, who were aware of the character of my ailment, and the apparent hopelessness of my case. Mme. Le Blanc, 30 Rue Drouot, Paris; Henri Du Bois, 11 Rue Melesherbes, Paris; Dr. Seteller, Bordeaux, France; Dr. E. Charmaux, Rue Algino and Lucas Vichy, France; M. Jean Gleinle, 31 Quai de la Moltre; Bernard Bradshaw, Esq., 3 York Chambers, Adelphi, London; J. W. Long, Esq., London; John H. Wilson, New York; J. O. Beer, Toledo, O.; Thomas Daniels, Toledo, O.; J. Prentice, Toledo, O.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. S. PRENTICE.

Newport Daily News, and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon (Sundays excepted), at the News building, 131 Thames street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large 32 column paper and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines, or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent, extra and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the Daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty-five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

The job office has recently been supplied with new type and a new press, especially adapted to fine work. Liberal supplies of choice papers, envelopes and cards, always on hand. Prices as low as possible for first class work.

FRIDAY, MAY 14, 1880.

Four murderers were hanged yesterday.

Congress has cut off gas in the postoffices and in some cities serious results follow. This looks like pretty small business to the average citizen.

The Republicans of Florida in State Convention yesterday unanimously passed a resolution instructing delegates to Chicago to vote for Grant.

It is not a difficult thing to foreclose a mortgage. And, so Samuel J. Tilden moves straight ahead in his attempt on the nomination for the Presidency.

Many of our exchanges continue to speak of Dr. E. O. Haven, the newly elected Methodist Bishop, as a brother of the late Bishop Gilbert Haven. This is a mistake. He is however a distant relative.

Hon. Elihu B. Washburne, now at Portland, reiterates his determination not to be a candidate for the Presidency under any circumstances; that he is for Gen. Grant first, last, and all the time.

The Methodist general conference has elected the Rev. Dr. J. M. Reed and Rev. Dr. C. H. Fowler missionary secretaries, and Rev. Dr. A. J. Kynett corresponding secretary of the Church Extension society. These elections are for four years.

Even Charles Bradlaugh consents to express his belief in God rather than lose a seat in Parliament. It would have been greatly to his credit had he said less about his solemn convictions, or else maintained them. But negations are never very strong in their power over the conduct of men.

The N. Y. Evening Post says a hearty "Amen!" put in the right place often encourages the exhorter. Put in the wrong place, its effect may be confusing if not disastrous. The Post is right, and what is more the impromptu "amens" that are heard in public are more frequently in the wrong place than in the right one.

The Secretary of War has transmitted to the chairman of the house committee on Pacific railroads a report from General Sherman on the military advantages of the Northern Pacific road, in which he advocates the extension, and also a report from Quartermaster General Meigs showing a vast saving to the government on transportation by that line during the past ten years.

There has been within a short time a startling increase of fires in all parts of the country. The village of Stuyvesant on the Hudson was mostly burned yesterday, while nearly one-half the town of West Liberty, Ohio, was destroyed. The fires in the oil regions have been very destructive and the losses for a month will run well up into the millions. It is no wonder that the weak insurance companies are beginning to stand from under.

Says the Graphic: It is astonishing and saddening to observe how the demoralization attending almost all our sports is spreading. Billiards, boat racing, horse racing, base ball, cricket—all these have been stained with accusations of foul play and "put-up jobs;" and now the contagion has spread upward to prize fighting, and it is boldly asserted that the failure of the last attempt in this sport was due to the fact that one of the proposed combatants was bought off. It is a sad, wicked world.

The Bostonians are having a lively discussion over the financial responsibility of their School Board. It appears that the committee on supplies have been accustomed to exceed the appropriations at will and there is a determination to test their right to do so. Action has been taken, "the effect of which" says the Journal, "if it is allowed to stand, is to prevent the committees from exceeding their appropriations without first reporting to the Board and receiving its sanction. It is obvious that if the Committee on Supplies, for example, were to have carte blanche in spending as much money as it saw fit, the process of making estimates and appropriations might as well be dispensed with. The purpose of an appropriation is supposed to be the limitation of expenditure, and if the affairs of the Board had been managed as they should have been, there would have been no occasion for the passage of these orders. There has been a good deal too much, in all our public bodies, of this free and easy policy of exceeding estimates, and trusting to luck to get appropriations voted after the money has been spent. The orders adopted prevent the sub-committees from exercising unlimited power, and are in the direction of an increased responsibility. One of the members saw fit to characterize them as "red tape," but the more red tape we have of this sort the better."

The Rev. Dr. J. F. Hurst, just chosen a Bishop at Cincinnati, is much more than an ordinary scholar and divine and has been regarded as one of the brightest men who has risen to prominence in the church. His scholarship is exceptionally broad and thorough. When only out of his teens, and without ever having been abroad, he was so thorough a German scholar that he was chosen to the position of President of the Evangelical College at Frankfort-on-the-Main, and his years spent there gave him a high position and reputation with many of the widely known professors in the famous universities. His pen was also used vigorously in many German publications of high repute. Here he wrote "The History of Rationalism," the study having been made from an evangelical Christian standpoint. This marked him as a critical student, and first made him known in America outside his own church. From that point his advancement was rapid, and he returned to America to accept a professorship under Dr. John McClintock, the Bible critic and first President of Drew Theological Seminary. He has since been connected with that institution, and was chosen to succeed Dr. Foster, its second President after his elevation to the Episcopacy. Dr. Hurst's writings consist of his History of Rationalism, Martyrs to the Tract Cause, Outlines to Bible History, Life and Literature in the Fatherland, Outlines of History and Our Theological Century. He has translated and edited Hagenbach's History of the Church in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries, Van Oosterzee's Lectures in Defence of John's Gospel, Lange's Commentary on the Epistle to the Romans and the Moral Essays of L. Annaeus Seneca, besides numerous essays and reviews for the periodical press.

THE UNITED STATES NAVAL TRAINING SCHOOL.

It is well understood that the United States Training school is not very well provided for at its present headquarters, and that its removal to a more congenial location has for some time been under consideration. Very naturally those who have these matters in charge turn their attention to Newport as being in every way fitted for the school. With our excellent harbor and the pleasant surroundings of Narragansett bay, with all that goes to make Newport so attractive, it is evident that no better location can be found. The school as at present constituted consists of nearly 1000 persons, including officers and their families, pupils, &c., and would make quite an addition to our local population. Some fifteen thousand dollars a month are expended by the Government in its support, and there is a prospect that the important establishment is yet to be greatly enlarged, but citizens will see at once the value of such an institution to any community and especially to one situated like our own.

This matter was under consideration in the General Assembly in 1878 when on the 8th of March the following action was taken:

Resolutions of tender to the United States of a location for a Naval Training School.

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the state of Rhode Island hereby tender to the government of the United States a suitable location in the waters of Narragansett bay for the establishment of a training school for boys in the navy of said United States.

Resolved, That His Excellency, the Governor of the state, the Honorable Augustus O. Bourne, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, and the Honorable George Lewis Cooke, chairman of the Finance Committee of the House of Representatives, be and the same are hereby appointed a commission to present a copy of these resolutions to the department at Washington, and also to our Senators and Representatives in Congress, and to ascertain what location the United States government desire for said school, and what number of acres of land, and to negotiate with the owner or owners of such tract of land, and to report the same to the next session of the General Assembly with their recommendations.

What was done under these resolutions was stated by His Excellency, Gov. Van Zandt, in his message to the General Assembly at its January session, 1879, whereunder the heading "United States Training School," the Governor says:

"At the January session, 1878, the General Assembly adopted a joint resolution appointing a commission consisting of the Governor and the Chairman of the Senate and House Finance Committees, and authorizing them to communicate with the government of the United States and endeavor to secure the permanent establishment of a Training School for seamen in the United States Navy, in the waters of the state, and to tender to the general government a suitable location for said institution.

In accordance with this vote, and at the request of the commission I visited Washington, and had apparently satisfactory interviews with the Secretary of the Navy and several naval officers. During the summer Secretary Thompson visited Newport, and I accompanied him on a government steamer on a visit to the locations in Narragansett bay which he regarded as suitable positions for the school. I have also had a considerable amount of correspondence upon the subject. In accordance with my request the United States Training Ship Minnesota was ordered to Newport, and remained in the harbor a number of weeks, during which every exertion was made to secure enlistments among the boys of our state."

Here the matter has remained up to the present time. Some of the authorities have indicated that all things considered the northerly portion of Coasters' Harbor island with its deep adjacent waters, would be a suitable location, and it is believed if a tender was made of the requisite number of acres to the Government for this purpose, and so long as it should be thus used, the Secretary of the Navy would order the school here. To do this of course requires action on the part of our citizens. As only a small portion of the island would be needed it would not interfere with the present asylum purposes. The school is kept on ship where all the boys eat and sleep, but a place for drill and some other purposes is needed on shore.

The Governor as chairman of the commission to look after our interests in this matter invited a few of our prominent citizens to his office this morning when a free consultation was had. The meeting was necessarily informal and after a comparison of views in which all agreed as to the importance of the movement, Governor Van Zandt, Mayors Burdick and Slocum were requested to consider further the details, gather information on the subject and if practicable propose some plan of action.

All the gentlemen present were fully convinced that the movement is highly important to the interests of our city and the state at large, and that should the school be secured it would be much better provided for than at present. It is to be hoped that our citizens will take a lively interest in the matter as one of prime importance to the whole community.

She is a fine interpreter of the class of bright, pure, charming plays suited to her character and style. THE CHURCH CHOIR FESTIVAL.—A large number were present from Newport yesterday to attend the Church Choir Festival at Providence. The choir connected with Trinity Church, under the direction of the rector, Rev. G. J. Magill, was presented and made a very favorable impression and many were of the opinion that its members excelled in many essential features. They showed careful and systematic training and their singing reflected great credit upon Newport. At the close of the festival they returned home, leaving Providence at about half-past 11 o'clock. At Bristol they were met by the steamer City of Newport. On the way home a number of impromptu songs were sung and the evening was spent in a very enjoyable manner. The boat arrived here soon after two o'clock. The Rev. W. I. Magill and the Rev. E. H. Kettell were present.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

The Court of Common Pleas within and for the county of Newport, will hold the May term here next week. Monday is the first day of the term by law, although the jurors are cited to appear on Tuesday morning, and therefore Monday, so far as the proceedings of the court are concerned, is a dies non.

The new civil docket is small, not up to the average in the number of entries.

The business before the grand jury is also very limited, and will hold their attention but a short time.

It is expected that Judge Stiness will preside at the opening of the court, and that Judge Durfee will be present also during the week, and that Assistant Attorney General Samuel P. Colt will be in attendance.

Should the session last all the week, it will leave but a short time in which to prepare for the session of the General Assembly, the week following.

JUSTICE COURT.

The only complaint for trial before this court today was against Solomon Caswell for an assault upon John S. Carr, son of Rev. Samuel I. Carr.

After hearing the testimony for the prosecution, the respondent was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars and costs. From this sentence he appealed, under the advice of his counsel, William P. Sheffield, Jr., Esq., to the November term of the Court of Common Pleas, with Lewis B. Caswell, his father, as surety, in the sum of one hundred dollars for the final prosecution of the appeal. The witnesses for the state were not cross-examined and the defence was not disclosed.

CONCERT LAST EVENING.

Is is very seldom that a concert gives its audience as much pleasure as was the case with the concert held at the Union Congregational Church last evening.

The choruses by the choir with their accompanying solos and duetts were exceedingly well sung. Miss Matthews's piano solo gave great satisfaction. The duet; "I Know a Bank" by the Misses Hattie and Rose Williams received an encore. The solos "She Wears a Rose in her Hair" by Miss Rose Williams, "Wood Nymph's Call" by Mrs. G. H. Mitchell, "When the Flowing Tide Comes In" by Miss H. Williams, and Magnetic Waltz, by Miss F. L. Matthews were each in turn rapturously encored. The readings of Mrs. G. H. Mitchel, especially "King John and the Abbott of Canterbury" obtained merited applause. The rain undoubtedly kept many away who would have been otherwise present, but who lost a musical treat. At the request of several of the audience present the singers were asked to repeat the concert tonight which request was granted by the singers, and will be repeated this evening at 8 o'clock.

The Portsmouth Quartette club will be added to the singers tonight and sing two or three pieces. The old program will be materially changed.

An accurate calculation of the dimensions of the three trains which transports the Cooper and Bailey London show, which is to exhibit in this city on Monday, May 31st, demonstrates some interesting facts. It is composed of thirty-four cars, none of them less than 50 feet in length, nor over 65. Their combined length figures 2,040 feet, or 680 yards. An ordinary train of 34 cars would make, counting them 28 feet long, respectively, 952 feet. Thus it is easy to see that the London Circus trains make what is equivalent to 69 cars, more than was ever used by any other show. This calculation does not include the three advance advertising cars.

Henry T. Paddock, husband of Maggie Mitchell the actress, was arrested in Holyoke, Mass., last Monday night on a judgment of the Superior Court for about $2,000 in favor of Alexander Calhoun. Paddock is locked up at Holyoke, and has given notice that he desires to take the poor debtors' oath.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The regular meeting of the Rhode Island Soldiers and Sailors Historical Society was held Thursday evening in Providence. The paper of the evening was read by Hon. J. M. Addeman, Secretary of State, and was entitled, "Reminiscences of Two Years with the Colored Troops." As indicated by the title, the paper was devoted mainly to incidents that occurred during the service of the regiment to which Captain Addeman was attached, the 14th Rhode Island Heavy Artillery (colored).

The regiment entered the United States service in the fall of 1863, and was mustered out in October, 1865, at Portsmouth Grove, R. I. The passage from Dutch Island to New Orleans in the transport Daniel Webster was graphically described, which was followed by a description of the camp and locality of the camp of the regiment at "English Turn," some fifteen miles below New Orleans. The paper treated of the habits, amusements and dispositions of colored men as soldiers, as well as the discipline, to which they yield readily; their readiness and anxiety to battle for the preservation of the Union, and disappointment that no opportunity occurred for them to make a distinct mark for themselves.

The nature of the country in the vicinity of New Orleans and Baton Rouge was minutely described, as well as the peculiarities of bayous and cypress swamps, and the inhabitants of that section received due share of attention. The paper was one of the ablest that has been read before the society and was listened to with rapt attention by the members and their friends.

TALE OF THE FISHWIFE AND ITS SAD FATE.

The following thrilling sketch from Mark Twain's new book is a clever hit at the peculiarities of German composition: It is a bleak Day. Hear the Rain, how he pours, and the Hail, how he rattles; and see the Snow, how he drifts along, and oh, the Mud, how deep he is! Ah, the poor Fishwife, it is stuck fast in the Mire; it has dropped its Basket of Fishes; and its Hands have been cut by the Scales as it seized some of the falling Creatures; and one Scale has even got into its Eye, and it cannot get her out. It opens its Mouth to cry for Help, but if any Sound comes out of him, alas! he is drowned by the raging of the Storm. And now a Tomcat has got one of the Fishes, and she will surely escape with him. No; she bites off a Fin, she holds her in her Mouth—will she swallow her? No; the Fishwife's brave Mother-Dog deserts his Puppies and rescues the Fin, which he eats himself as his Reward. O horror! the Lightning has struck the Fishbasket! he sets him on Fire; See the Flame, how she licks the doomed Utensil with her red and angry Tongue! Now she attacks the helpless Fishwife's Foot—she burns him up, all but the big Toe, and even she is partly consumed; and still she spreads, still she waves her fiery Tongues! She attacks the Fishwife's Leg and destroys it; she attacks its Hand and destroys her; she attacks its poor worn Garment and destroys her also; she attacks its Body and consumes him; she wreathes herself about its Heart and it is consumed; next about its Breast, and in a Moment she is a Cinder; now she reaches its Neck—he goes; now its Chin—it goes; now its Nose—she goes. In another Moment, except Help come, the Fishwife will be no more! Time presses—is there none to succor and save? Yes! Joy, joy! with flying Feet the she-English woman comes! But alas! the generous she-Female is too late! Where now is the fated Fishwife? It has ceased from its Suffering; it has gone to a better Land; all that is left of it for its loved Ones to lament over is this poor smouldering Ash-heap. Ah, woful, woful Ash heap! Let us take him up tenderly, reverently, upon the lowly Shovel, and bear him to his long Rest, with the Prayer that when he rises again it will be in a Realm where he will have one good square responsible Sex, and have it all to himself, instead of having a mangy lot of assorted Sexes scattered all over him in Spots.

A CURIOUS FACT ABOUT BASS.

In a recent letter Seth Green, who is authority in all matters piscatorial, discourses briefly on the best modes of angling for bass. Among other statements he makes the following, which will be interesting to a great many "simple wise men" who have the good sense and leisure to go a fishing:

If the fish is on the lower fly, you will not take any more, but if he is on one of the upper flies, you will be sure to take more if there are any in sight:

We learned this fact and published it years ago as a curious habit of the bass family. But we knew the fact long before we discovered the reason of it. Nothing in our angling experience ever caused us more perplexity or so greatly excited our curiosity. It took us a week of patient observation on what used to be the best trolling ground on the St. Lawrence—in the neighborhood of Gananoqui—to clear up the mystery. But we finally succeeded to our entire satisfaction, and here is the simple solution: The bass is a social fish. He likes company. Where there is one there are more. They move in schools. When one strikes the troll there are always others in the neighborhood. When the lookers on see the struck fish "cutting up" they "go for him" under the impression that he has found a "good thing," of which they are unwilling he should have the monopoly. As the angler, on feeling the strike, at once "reels up," the ravenous rascals follow in pursuit, but never pass their leaping and floundering companion, because they fancy he is trying to seize and gorge the "tid-bit" they wish to share with him. This purpose keeps them either even with or behind him, but they never pass him. Hence none ever take the fly above the one upon which the captive is hooked, but are pretty sure to be beguiled by any fly below him.—[George Dawson in the Albany Journal.

Lately an inhabitant of Naples informed his friends that he was about to make a trip to Paris. Immediately he was overwhelmed with commissions. Upon his return to Naples the traveller brought with him, however, only a part of the purchases ordered through him. "How in the world could you be so forgetful?" said several of those whom he thus disappointed. "I will tell you how it happened," said the Neapolitan, "such and such a one in giving me their commissions gave me the money at the same time. I folded each one's money in the paper on which his commissions were written and placed all the paper on my table. A sudden gust of wind came and blew away every paper that did not contain money—possibly your commission was among them."

The hotels of the United States are superior to all others in the world. This fact is acknowledged not only by the people of our country, but also by all others who have visited here from abroad. The excellence of our American system for perfect discipline, thorough comfort and complete satisfaction in every particular, surpasses anything of the kind elsewhere, although, of course, there are exceptions to be noted among the numerous instances where the defects of some public houses of small size and minor importance are somewhat glaring, but the large establishments can seldom be complained of. But taking into account the sum total of all such imperfections, our country stands unrivalled in its facilities for furnishing the travelling public and permanent patrons superb hotel accommodations.—[N. Y. Hotel Mail.

A beautiful phenomenon was presented in Virginia City, Nevada, a few days ago. A writer says: "Last evening as the sun sank behind Mount Davidson the wind changed, and, blowing from the north, sent streaming out from the peak of the mountain a great volume of fine dry snow which, being lighted up by the rays of the setting sun, presented the appearance of sheets of flame and rolling billows of smoke, and so startlingly real was the sight that little children cried out, 'Look! Mount Davidson is on fire.'"

Says a London "society" journal: Lady Mandeville, Mrs. Arthur Paget and Lady Randolph Churchill, all three American ladies, it will be remembered, intend, I hear, passing the coming season at that most charming of watering places, Newport, R. I.

James Russell Young reports Gen. Grant as saying that "Bayard would make a splendid President." If he keeps on talking that way, he will get himself disliked by the stalwarts.

There is said to be a newspaper published in Alaska which hasn't yet published a Presidential estimate, but the rumor stands sadly in need of confirmation.—[Albany Journal.

The Journal has come to the conclusion that Grant can't be nominated, and that Blaine is probably in the same fix. This is progress.—[Boston Herald.

EMULSION

COD LIVER OIL!

—WITH—

Pepsine and Quinine

offer this preparation of Cod Liver Oil to the profession, in the confident hope that it will supply a pleasant and efficient medium of administering that invaluable remedy.

It is unnecessary at this date to refer to the very high character which has been borne by the "Caswell Cod Liver Oil" since its first introduction; it is sufficient to state that this oil is used in this new preparation.

The proportion of oil held in the emulsion is fifty per cent.; the finest Turkey Gum Arabic and the purest White Sugar are the other ingredients employed in its manufacture.

The addition of Pepsine and Quinine is made with the view of enabling the most delicate stomach to retain and digest the oil.

IMPROVING THE FARM,

—OR—

Methods of Culture that shall Afford a Profit and at the same time Increase the Fertility of the Soil.

By LUCIUS D. DAVIS, CONANICUT PARK FARM,

NEWPORT, R. I.

This book, containing about 220 pages, discusses the improved methods of culture in all their various applications to practical farm life. It gives tables of manurial value of different kinds of feed, and of experiments by many of the best and most thorough agriculturists, together with an abundance of facts in small compass that will be appreciated as of great service. It also contains the formulas for making "Artificial Ashes," "Artificial Stable Manure," and all the various "specials" for particular crops. By the use of these formulas persons making use of artificial fertilizers can mix their own, be sure they are just what they profess to be, and save one fourth of the cost.

The book will be ready for delivery the present week. Price $1.00. Will be sent to any address postage paid on receipt of the price.

ESTABLISHMENT!

In connection with the Newport Laundry, we have put up a patent

STEAM CARPET BEATING MACHINE,

by which the carpets are beaten on the back and brushed on the face. The dust and dirt, as fast as beaten out of the fabric are removed from the compartment where the carpets are beaten, by an exhaust fan, which also removes and carries out of the room any moth or other larva, which may be beaten out of the carpet with the dirt and dust, so that there is no possibility of their settling back on the carpet.

Prices for Beating Carpets:

Ingrain and Three Ply..........5 cents per yard
Brussels and Tapestry..........4 cents per yard
Velvet and Wilton..........6 cents per yard

A special price will be made to parties having 100 yards or more done at one time.

Charitableness and a base ball should be boundless.—[Boston Transcript.

A Vallejo father told his charming daughter lately that she must not listen to flatterers. "But, papa," she replied, "how can I tell that they flatter me unless I do listen?" "Tur-roo-tur-roo, daughter." And he leaned over the end of the piano and commenced to think.—[Vallejo Chronicle.

The New York Graphic says, "A man's slippers are made for comfort, and a woman's to show her colored stockings." The whirligig of time brings many changes. When we were a boy a woman's slippers were not made to show her colored stockings. They were made to—but the subject is too painful.—[Norristown Herald.

A correspondent sends us a communication describing the great fire in Troy, May 10, 1862, and says everything happened on that occasion just as he saw it in a dream ten days before. Now let him dream that his letter has been sent to the waste paper bag, and he will for a second time realize the truth there is in dreams.—[Troy Times.

FARM AND GARDEN.

WILL IT PAY TO RAISE CORN.—Right here we are met with the plausible assertion that if it does not pay to raise corn for sale, it must be more economical to purchase than to produce this cereal. Not necessarily. There was much good sense in the remark of a shrewd and thrifty Yankee farmer, who, when asked if it would not be cheaper to buy his corn than to raise it, replied, "Corn is a mighty good thing to have around; in fact you can't run a farm without it. It makes milk and it makes beef, and is indispensable for pork and poultry. You may say what you please about hay and roots, you can't get along without corn, and if you raise it yourself you are sure to have it, and to feed it more liberally than when you have to buy. To be sure, it costs something to raise it, but when raised on your own land and by your own labor, you do not feel the expense as you do when you have to count out the cash. I shall stick to the corn crop till I find a better." There are many products which the farmer may very properly raise for home consumption which he would not care to raise for market. Very few New England farmers raise beans for sale, but every one should be ashamed who does not raise his own beans. There is no market like the home market. This requires no transportation, no commissions, no trust, no waste of time or words in higgling about prices. True economy therefore demands that whatever is needed on the farm should be raised there, even if it does cost as much to raise as to purchase. Whether corn can be raised or purchased in New England more cheaply is a disputed point among farmers, about as many advocating one side of the question as the other, and this fact proves that there cannot be much difference between the cost of the home-made and the purchased product. This being so we should certainly recommend New England farmers to raise their own corn, for they will "not feel the expense of labor so much as the counting out of the cash." The clean cultivation which this crop requires prepares the land admirably for a crop of English grain, and for stocking down with grass, the chief end of New England agriculture.

Besides, we are satisfied that when transportation and commissions are deducted from Western corn, the Hoosier has not so great an advantage over the Yankee as is commonly supposed. While the Hoosier raises this cereal at less cost, the Yankee raises a greater average product per acre. This may seem almost incredible, but if we may credit the United States census returns, it is true, and the reason is, that the Eastern farmer cultivates this crop with more care. There is no insuperable objection to the cultivation of corn in New England, either in the nature of the soil or climate, as is manifest from the fact that in the rugged state of Vermont, by the census of 1860, the average yield per acre was greater than in any other state in the Union. A product of 100 bushels of shelled corn per acre is of more frequent occurrence in Massachusetts than in Illinois.

Where there is a will there is a way, and we hope the will of most New England farmers is to raise corn enough for their own consumption. Now that we have such pure and efficient commercial fertilizers, manufactured at our door, as it were, the facilities for corn culture are so increased that we shall be much disappointed if the forthcoming census does not reveal both an increase of acreage devoted to corn in New England, and an increased average product per acre. We would not cultivate grass and roots less, but give more attention to corn, and heartily agree with our Quaker poet, Whittier, who says—

> "But let the good old crop adorn
> The hills our father trod;
> Still let us for his golden corn
> Send up our thanks to God."

—[Mass. Ploughman.

in fact, all work required to put the house in order for use at once, from cellar to attic, and at fair prices, as we are working very low this spring. It will pay to get prices from this establishment before closing your contracts for

As we will WARRANT to do as good work and furnish as good stock as can be done in this or any other city.

I also paint and varnish carriages, from a wheelbarrow or baby carriage, to the largest coach, and use the best of varnishes on the best of jobs, and will use the poorest varnish on the cheapest jobs.

I keep in stock several kinds of varnish to sell by the measure. Have all grades of Valentine's varnish, in one gallon cans, which will be sold at small advance from cost. This varnish is used altogether by Brewster of New York, and other first class carriage makers. Have on hand, about
